To Know What's Coming

• I would like to express our thanks to you for the information so well laid out in the CBC Times. Television is so much more enjoyable when one can look it up and know what is coming. We would also like to hand out a big thank you to Stu Phillips and his gang, (Red River Jamboree, Saturdays, CBC-TV). His shows are always so good and his dancers delightful to watch. We hope his show will be on TV for a long time to come.

—Mrs. H.W., Kinistino, Sask.

A Wicked Woman

• I cannot offer the CBC any congratulations for a play such as A Wicked Woman, (Playdate, January 17, CBC-TV). It was the dulllest and most pointless story I have ever seen. . . . That poor little innocent woman had killed her husband and had confessed to the law and she almost seemed proud of it instead of showing any feeling or remorse whatever, as though she had drowned an unwanted kitten.

What is the moral issue in such a play? I never yet saw time better wasted and needless to say I turned off the TV when halfway through. Maybe you will say the culmination of the story had a redeeming feature, but I'm afraid many viewers like myself did not have the patience to see it through.

Why not encourage playwrights to turn out plays like the Loretta Young Show (Monday-Friday afternoons on CBC-TV), Crossroads (not a CBC network program) and the like, which are not only entertaining but which also convey a message to leave us spiritually refreshed. I would also like to see more panel shows such as Front Page Challenge and Flashback. May I add that we enjoyed Triple Play, (Parade, January 23, CBC-TV), featuring the three popular Canadians,

Hope For Repeats

• May I thank you for Kim, (Quest, January 27, CBC-TV), and for the program on Coventry Cathedral, (The Lively Arts, January 29, CBC-TV). May we hope to see them repeated.

—Miss B.C., Edmonton, Alta.

Hockey Night In Canada

• Although CBC's NHL Hockey has the largest audience of any Canadian TV show, I think too many of us take this program for granted. I know it is a lot of work for a lot of people and I for one greatly appreciate it as I am an avid hockey fan. It is great to actually see NHL action every Saturday night. I am also grateful for the Stanley Cup playoffs, which, I realize, must entail a great effort. On the whole, you are running a good show all week long.

—D.A.N., Bashaw, Alta.

• Why is it we can only see part of our national sport — hockey? No matter what game is on TV from our good neighbours to the south, we have the entire game. In years past we always had two full periods of hockey. Now we are lucky to have one and a half.

I realize it's late to do anything this season but what about having three full periods next season?

—E.B., Medicine Hat, Alta.

In arriving at its decision to broadcast Saturday night NHL games on CBC-TV, the CBC took into consideration its responsibilities to audiences in different time zones across Canada. It is felt that Saturday evening "prime time" viewing should contain more variety of program subject material than just hockey. Therefore, hockey fans are allotted some 75 minutes of their favourite sport (this allotment has not been decreased recently, as this reader implies) and others, who may not appreciate hockey as much, have other fare presented for their interest.

NHL hockey still receives more coverage in terms of CBC prime network time than any other sport. However, if the hockey games were not at night, and if the hockey season were not such a long one, we might very well carry full games.

CBC Radio offers more complete coverage, starting 30 minutes earlier than the network telecast.

On Our Cover . . .

CBC-TV starts the week in gales of laughter, with Carol Burnett's special Sunday (back cover) and an hour of comic keyboard antics by Victor Borge Monday (front cover).

MILLIONS OF CHILDREN the world over have been enchanted by Serge Prokofieff's orchestral narration of the fairy tale Peter and the Wolf. Another fairytale setting in the form of a song by the same composer, The Ugly Duckling, will receive its broadcast premiere Sunday, February 24 at 4:45 p.m. on CBC Radio's Song Recital.

Soprano Nona Mari and concert pianist Ada Bronstein will perform the work, originally written for voice and piano in 1914 and revised by the composer in 1932. It was once described by the dean of Russian letters, Maxim Gorki, as a work that "expresses truly human qualities of compassion" in portraying the metamorphosis of a humble feathered member of the barnyard community into a beautiful swan.

The Hans Christian Andersen story was translated from Prokofieff's Russian version by Robert Burness. Ben Horch is producer.

DO YOU THINK high schools should prepare their students for specific jobs rather than give them a general education? This question, and others related to technical and vocational training, form the topic for the second of the Saskatchewan Federation of Home and School panel broadcasts on CBK Regina, 8:00 p.m., Tuesday, February 26.

Taking part in the broadcast are C. R. Ford, director of the Technical and Vocational Training Branch, Federal department of Labour; J. A. Doyle, director of vocational education for Saskatchewan; W. J. J. Walker, superintendent of high schools, Regina, and J. G. Stepan of the National Employment Service, Regina.

Chairman for the series of broadcasts is the Hon. Mr. Justice R. L. Brownridge. Mr. Brownridge, born in Saskatoon in 1914, moved to Moose Jaw at an early age. Graduated from the University of Saskatchewan with a law degree, he articulated with the law firm of Prime Minister John Diefenbaker in Prince Albert, then took up practice in Moose Jaw. Made a Q.C. in 1951, he was appointed a judge of the Saskatchewan Court of Queen's Bench in 1959, and was elevated to the Court of Appeals in October, 1961. He now resides in Regina.

Reactions to the series of programs are welcomed by the Home and School Federation. They may be addressed to Mrs. W. A. Hennigan, the Federation's secretary, at 1237 Avenue H North, Saskatoon.

Always The Switch

• Mrs. A.M. certainly is off the beam in her letter (Mailbag, February 2-8). I also have friends that don't watch Festival and Playdate, but also have plenty that do watch and enjoy these programs. The calibre of these shows varies of course, but is generally of a high standard. Speaking French I find interesting, amusing and informative, but obviously it isn't everyone's cup of tea.

To my mind the CBC is doing a good job catering to the varied tastes of its audience. There's always the switch on the radio or TV if a program doesn't appeal

Southern Listener

• The first two years I was in Denver (1959-60) I could get station CBX Alberta and sometimes CBW Manitoba, and I lived right in the heart of the city. Now I only get CBK Regina clearly, late at night.

But I have come to like the CBC Times so much and to read it makes me feel nostalgic. I loved the Canadian radio programs back east—Max Ferguson, the Saturday plays, the Metropolitan Opera, all the Massey Lectures, discussions from McGill University, CBC Wednesday Night and so on. I like almost all the articles in the CBC Times — especially those on personalities, musicians and artists.

—M.H.D., Denver, Colorado, USA.

A Visit to The Cove

• I look forward to visiting with the delightful people in Kingfisher Cove each Saturday (CBC-TV) and in my opinion this program is in a class by itself. Everyone in the company is an artist in his or her own right, and I hope they will be with us for a long time to come.

—Mrs. K.D.C., Edmonton.

DIPLOMACY:

Yesterday and Today

THE FIRST OF two programs exploring the techniques, modes and manner of international diplomacy is presented this week on CBC Radio's Project '63 Sunday, February 24, at 5:00 p.m. Under the general title The Diplomats, the first program will examine old traditions. The second program, heard March 3, will deal with new approaches to diplomacy.

To gather memories and opinions of experienced men in the field of international diplomacy, broadcaster Colin D. Edwards travelled through Europe and North America.

He brought back recorded interviews with such veteran diplomats as: Lord Strang and Sir George Rendel of England; Averill Harriman, John D. Hickerson and Theodore Achilles of the United States; Carcel Cadieux, Nick Cavell, Arnold Heeney and Douglas Lapan of Canada; C. S. Jha of India; Dimce Belovski of Yugoslavia; Ahj Lovink of The Netherlands; Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana; Adnan Pachachi of Iraq; Nathan Barnes of Liberia, and former deputy-secretary of the United Nations, Andrew Cordier.

Wagner's Enduring Monument to Love . . .

THE ROMANCE of Tristan and Isolde, a burning saga of a handsome young knight with a quick wit and a facile tongue, who assumes a false name to win a lovely Irish princess and acquire the benefits of her magic healing powers, has been told in many languages and ages, has been dramatized and sung all over the world. Wagner used it as the basis of one of his most popular operas and his most poetic libretto, Tristan und Isolde, which will be broadcast direct from the stage of the Metropolitan Opera on Saturday, February 23, at 1:30 p.m. Hans Hopf and Birgit Nilsson sing the title roles, with Jerome Hines as King Marke, Walter Casse as Kurneal, and Irene Dalis as Brangane. Georg Solti conducts.

In the opera's probing exploration of the wilderness of passion, Wagner made Tristan und Isolde an enduring moment to love. "Since I have never known in life the real happiness of love, I have determined to build a monument to this most beautiful of all dreams. . . . I have in mind Tristan und Isolde," he wrote to Franz Liszt in 1854, the year Wagner began work on the opera.

Like most of his writing it is a redemption saga. Wagner was preoccupied with the mystery of salvation—not so much as revealed in church doctrines, but more with the symbols and techniques of redemption, with the idea of the majesty of death, of death as the only pathway to fulfillment. Because their love began in the awareness of death, it is always thus oriented. But romantic as the lovers are, they are also practical. They are aware that only in an after-life can they be truly together, and they take steps accordingly.

One of the most interesting things about the opera is the way Wagner points up the fact that our self-styled maturity in adulthood is really sour grapes. The adolescent, he says, sees things we don't. He is capable of a ruthless analysis of adulthood. The adolescent looks squarely at a problem the rest of us are trying to forget—the question of how love, life, and death hang together — and sees it and all its implications, Freudian and otherwise, much more vividly than he ever will again when he has taken the irrevocable step over the threshold of adulthood. By the end of his opera Wagner makes his audience realize that if to be mature is to be realistic, then the teenager is sometimes more mature than his parents.

FESTIVAL Presents 'The Wild Duck', Monday on CBC-TV

IBSEN:

Comedy as Well as Tragedy

IT COMES AS a distinct shock to some theatre-goers to discover how terribly funny Ibsen can be. They, of course, are thinking of him only as the gloomy author of Ghosts, An Enemy of the People, and other plays where his biting satire makes short shrift of some of society's shams and conventions. But in The Wild Duck, while keeping a caustic tongue handy, he ventures into comedy with bold success.

This brilliant dramatization of the abstract idea that most of us are ill-equipped to bear the fierce blaze of absolute truth, progresses to a deeply moving tragedy at the end, one of the most unforgettable tragedies in all literature. But on the way it offers some highly amusing situations and dialogue that are as inevitable as the tragedy, and just as important and natural an ingredient of the situation which produces them both. Act two is almost pure comedy, so that later, when a tragic situation begins to develop around a conflict of wills, the audience is no more aware of what is bound to happen than the characters are, and thus the final tragedy is all the more poignant.

The Wild Duck is magnificent entertainment, combining fierce satire and a warm understanding of human frailties, with characters who seem too real to be imaginary. They are not remarkable people at all, but they manage to keep their audiences interested in what they are going to do or say next, from the moment the curtain rises. Ibsen insisted that their ideas were their own, that he simply wrote them down for them. He said they followed him around wherever he went, chatting mentally with him — even at parties after he had given them strict instructions to let him have a bit of a breather for a change. No wonder he had a reputation for being terse and absent-minded at social gatherings!

In the 90-minute CBC-TV production of The Wild Duck to be seen on Festival Monday night, February 25, John Colicos will be seen as Gregers Werle; Peter Donat as Hjalmar Ekdal; Norma Renault as Gina Ekdal; Diane Leblanc as Hedvig Ekdal; and special guest star Everett Sloane as Haakon Werle. Production is by Harvey Hart. The adaptation for television is by Alvin Goldman.

Ibsen's idea in the drama was to illustrate the dreadful effects of the wrong kind of idealism: the idealism of Gregers Werle, who was determined to seek out the truth, no matter what the cost. The sad experiences of the Ekdal family in their quaint, untidy but until then happy household, as Werle proceeds with his quest, are reflected in the experiences of a wild duck which the daughter keeps as a pet.

Technically the play is a marvel of construction, with no loose ends or wasted words anywhere, despite its great length. And so the task of cutting it to fit radio or TV time requirements is always a frustrating task. An interesting thing to remember about this great dramatic masterpiece is that it was written for the people, not just for an élite group with special understanding. So you can imagine the sensation it and other Ibsen dramas made in the settled Victorian theatre, cluttered as it was with beautiful ladies, bold bandits, silly farces, and classical tragedy, when they jolted audiences with the suggestion that they think. And many of the audiences, being unfamiliar with the process, resisted loudly for some time. Fortunately for Ibsen and the development of the theatre, George Bernard Shaw shouted the Norwegian playwright's praises far, wide, and handsomely.

Four young British adventurers are seen on their recent Arctic expedition to learn more about the ill-fated Franklin expedition of 1845.

A Visit to Beacon Six

Sunday, February 24th on CBC-TV

AMONG THE EARLY explorers who led the way into Canada's Arctic regions, none had a more adventurous or tragic history than Sir John Franklin, who gave his name to the vast district lying along the extreme northern boundary of Canada's mainland.

Franklin was a British naval officer who, after serving his time as a midshipman and junior officer—he took part in the battle of Trafalgar with Nelson—turned to Arctic exploration and spent much of his life making extensive journeys across the north, opening up new areas and broadening the horizons of man's knowledge of the Arctic. Between 1819 and 1827, he explored the northern Canadian coast, following the Coppermine and Mackenzie rivers far inland, and covering territory known previously only to the Eskimos.

His most famous expedition, from which he was destined never to return, was begun in 1845 when he set out with two ships, the Erebus and the Terror, in an attempt to discover the elusive channel that had challenged men's curiosity for generations: the North-West passage to the Orient. As it happened, Franklin virtually discovered the long-sought passage; later investigation revealed that, sailing from the east, he had reached within a few miles of linking up with the farthest point of exploration from the west.

But that revelation was made many years later and by other explorers, for no one in Franklin's party ever returned to tell the tale of their Arctic odyssey. After passing through Lancaster Sound and wintering at Beechey Island, the ships were trapped in Victoria Strait in September, 1846. Unable to escape from the imprisoning ice-field, the party suffered terrible hardship from starvation, disease, and bitter cold for almost 20 months. Franklin died in June, 1847.

Almost a year later, in April, 1848, the survivors abandoned the ships and set out along the western shores of King William Island, following a route marked out by an earlier explorer, Thomas Simpson, in 1839. The 105 men, under the command of Captain F. R. M. Crozier, hoped to follow the trail to one of the Hudson's Bay Company outposts. None made it. Beset by scurvy and weakened by lack of food, the men dropped out, one by one, until the entire party was wiped out.

In life, Franklin had made great achievements in Arctic exploration, and even in death he contributed to the cause. The total disappearance of his party was the prime motive in Arctic exploration for the next 20 years. The mysterious disappearance caught the imagination of the world, and many search expeditions were sent out in attempts to solve the puzzle. The attempts were successful; little by little the story was pieced together until the full tragedy was disclosed. Perhaps more important, each successive search expedition gleaned information, not only on Franklin's fate, but on the nature and geography of the Arctic.

Last year another group of searchers went into the north with the aim of discovering the answers to a few questions still remaining about the ill-fated Franklin party. Four young British adventurers—David Gordon-Deane, Russell Polden, Robin Challis, and Robert Cundy—trekked up to Cape Britannia in search of a stone cairn believed to contain log-books or messages left during the Franklin survivors' futile march. The cairn, identified as Beacon Six, was one of seven land-marks erected by Simpson in 1839. It was known that some of Franklin's men had passed the cairn. Did they leave any message there? No one knew, for Beacon Six had not been visited by a white man for more than a century.

What they found at the site will be shown this week on CBC-TV's 20/20, Sunday afternoon, February 24th, (Please turn to page 9)

CBXT—Hi Teens

Teenage singing star Yvette Kramps and host Mike Winlaw with a show especially for teenagers. In addition to regular news, sports and interview segments, the panel discusses the opportunities offered by a career in dentistry.

World Of Sport

Cross Canada Curling. Don Wittman reports from Winnipeg as Ernie Richardson's Saskatchewan rink plays the foursome from Northern Ontario, skipped by Ron Redding.

World Of Sport

Big Game Hunt. Film highlights of a three-week hunt by a party of six in the Findlay Creek area of British Columbia, near Lake Windermere. Scenes included are: the shooting of a moose; one clean miss of a grizzly bear; and candid shots of cougars, mountain goats, deer, elk, antelope, black and grizzly bear and moose.

Chief hunter was 70-year-old Theodore J. Pollack of Washington, D.C. Guide was Ted Zinkan, a class "A" guide who operates the Rocky Mountain Boys' Camp at Windermere, B.C. Mrs. Zinkan, a class "C" guide, was chief cook and counsellor for the party. Written by producer Tom Connochie, a member of the hunting party. Narrated by George Maclean.

CBWT—Intercollegiate Basketball

The University of Manitoba plays the Calgary Branch of the University of Alberta.

2. Gardener Stan Westaway demonstrates seed-sowing in the home.

Alberta Game Farm

The Living Shovel. The badger is one of Canada's native animals that is as much a part of western wildlife as any existing species. Cursed by horsemen because of the holes it digs in the prairies, the badger is a valuable factor in keeping the gopher population from expanding beyond reason. The meat-eating badger is built for digging and is a tireless burrower.

Beverly Hillbillies

A clever confidence man tries to sell Jed some of California's landmarks, the Hollywood Bowl, the Griffith Park Zoo and the Hollywood Freeway, in a multi-million dollar package deal.

The Nurses

A seemingly efficient nurse is regarded by the student nurses as their ideal of what the profession demands.

Red River Jamboree

Guest is to be announced. Theme of show is "Ghost Town." A few of the selections:

Dutchman's Gold	Stu
A Railroad's Bride I'll Be	Peggy

Juliette

Soprano Jean Marshall, popular vocalist on CBC-TV's Kingfisher Cove, is special guest.

Lovely soprano Jean Marshall follows her regular appearance Saturday afternoon on CBC-TV's Kingfisher Cove with a turn that evening as guest on the Juliette Show.

CBWT—Thriller

Choose a Victim. An unhappy heiress uses love as a tool to destroy her dominating uncle.

ary 24. The program, entitled Beacon Six, consists of film footage shot by the group during its seven-week journey, with narration by Robert Cundy. First shown on CBC-TV last month, the program is being repeated due to wide interest among viewers.

Equipped with about 1,500 pounds of gear, the four men began their trip at Montreal, travelled by automobile to Yellowknife, then flew north to Back River, the settlement that the remnants of Franklin's party had vainly attempted to reach a century earlier. From Back River, the group pushed on to the cairn by kayak and on foot.

The young searchers had decided upon the expedition as a result of meeting and talking to Noel Wright, a retired naval officer who for many years conducted research on early Arctic explorers and who has written a book entitled Quest for Franklin.

Program Notes

FEBRUARY 24

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

CBXT—Saturday Heroes

Sportscasters Glenn Bjarnason and Ernie Afaganis turn the sport spotlight on the 13-and-under basketball stars of the Edmonton Boys' Basketball League. This week's opponents are the Optimist Knights and the Weber Bros. Wild Cats. A demonstration on basketball techniques is given at half-time. Producer, Les MacDiarmid.

Country Calendar

Alf Dyck talks about his swine farm in Borden, Sask. Dyck keeps eight to ten Yorkshire sows, has a 1,000-acre farm, and is a well-known judge of swine, having judged nearly all shows including the Royal. He tells how conformation and types tie in with the production of good breeding stock.

Time Of Your Life

Lonely Boy. Host Peter Kastner introduces this National Film Board film about popular entertainer and 'teenagers' idol, Paul Anka. The program was filmed in New York and Atlantic City where Anka fans turned out by the thousands to hear the 22-year-old Ottawa singer and composer. The program shows the man and his audiences in action. Interviews with Anka and his manager, Irvin Feld, tell the story of Anka's rise to fame and fortune.

Quebec Winter Carnival

Ninety minutes of carnival highlights including the torchlight parade and canoe races. In the canoe race, contestants pit their skill and muscle against the winds, tides and varying currents of the St. Lawrence. Five-man crews battle to get their 300-pound boats across the river, scrambling across moving ice floes part of the way, then leaping in to bend their backs and oars when they strike open water.

20/20

Beacon 6. Four young British adventurers are seen in an expedition to Cape Britannia in Canada's far north to find a stone cairn believed to contain information about the ill-fated John Franklin Expedition of 1846. Seen on the second expedition are David Gordon-Deane, Russell Polden, Robin Challis and Robert Cundy. All belong to the British Army reserve. The four men made the seven-week trip last year to their Arctic destination by car, plane and kyak. Commentator is Robert Cundy.

Twentieth Century

Attack on Singapore. The fall of Singapore early in the Second World War is detailed. The story traces events from December 8, 1941, when the Japanese 25th Army struck through Singapore's back door, the rubber and tin-rich Malayan peninsula, to the final surrender on February 15, 1942, of 64,000 British, Australian and Indian troops. Walter Cronkite reports.

Citizens' Forum

Confederation — A Century Later: Does It Still Work? The second in a series of four programs in which 12 men from across Canada discuss whether the British North America Act responds to the needs of modern Canadian society and, if not, what changes should be made. Chairman is Gerard Pelletier, editor of La Presse.

Today, Economic Development. Jacques Parizeau, economist and professor at L'Ecole des Hautes Etudes Commerciales, introduces this subject which asks the question: Should the "have" provinces assume a greater responsibility for developing the resources and raising the living standards of the "have-not" provinces?

The Nature of Things

Lie Detectors. Host is Dr. John Rich, a psychiatrist with Toronto and Queen's Universities. The program is a study of the autonomic nervous system, how it works and what it can reveal.

In police interrogations and other situations, many methods are used to determine if a subject is lying. One of the more efficient methods is the monitoring of the autonomic nervous system.

Walt Disney

Banner in the Sky. Second of a two-part adventure-drama about a young mountain climber who dreams of being the first person to conquer the mountain which claimed his father's life years earlier.

Starring James MacArthur, Michael Rennie and Janet Munro.

Hazel

Hazel tries to participate in a benefit concert for the Children's Orthopedic Hospital, which George's snobbish sister has arranged.

Ed Sullivan

Ed's Guests include comedian Jimmy Durante accompanied by his partners Eddy Jackson and Sonny King in a song and comedy routine; and musical comedy star Carol Lawrence.

Carol and Company

Starring comedienne Carol Burnett with special guest star Robert Preston. A regular personality on the Garry Moore Show for three years, Miss Burnett presents material used in her record-smashing six-city tour last summer. Robert Preston is star of the movie, The Music Man.

Quest

Oppenheimer. A documentary drama concerned with the conflicting values and loyalties surrounding one of America's most brilliant scientists, Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer. Alan King adapted the script from official transcripts of the 1954 Atomic Energy Commission's personnel security board hearing. Oppenheimer, who directed building of the first atomic bombs in the Second World War, was accused of Communist sympathies and subsequently dismissed from his government post.

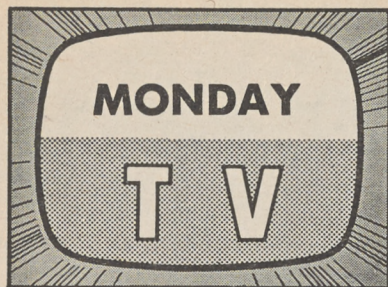

Starring Fletcher Markle, Alexander Webster, John Bethune, Ed McNamara and Ruth Springford. Producer, George McCowan.

CBWT—Of Ballads and Bards

Festival

The Wild Duck, by Henrik Ibsen, adapted for television by Alvin Goldman. Convinced that his father is responsible for the ill-fortune of the Ekdal family, Gregers Werle is determined to save the Ekdals with the truth. His wrong-headed idealism leads inevitably to tragedy.

Starring John Colicos, Peter Donat, Norma Renault and Diane Leblanc, with special guest star Everett Sloane. Produced by Harvey Hart.

CBWT-Surfside 6

A Matter of Seconds. Dave Thorne and his crime-solving buddies race against time to prove an ex-pug's innocence.

SUNDAY ON TV:

Quebec's

Winter Carnival

THE QUEBEC Winter Carnival is in full swing and, as the colourful festival begins its third and last week, sportsmen and revellers from all over North America are crowding into the old city on the north bank of the St. Lawrence to partake of the fun, thrills, and pageantry.

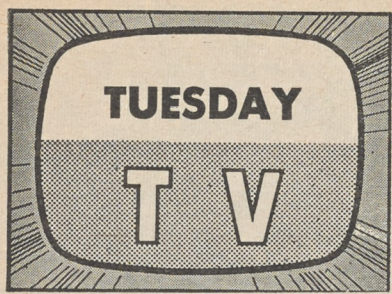

CBC-TV viewers will be able to share in some of the excitement of Carnival events on Sunday, February 24, when CBC-TV remote-telecast crews present coverage of two of the Carnival's most colourful events: the traditional torchlight snowshoe procession, and the unique canoe race across the St. Lawrence.

The torchlight parade, videotaped earlier during the Carnival, will be shown in a half-hour program. Immediately following that telecast, one hour's live coverage will be presented of the canoe race, one of the last major events in the Carnival.

In the race across the mile-wide stretch of river between Quebec and the city of Levis on the south shore, the intrepid competitors fight a dangerous battle against strong winds, treacherous currents, and shifting tides, as well as the hulking ice-floes that lie across their path. The five-man crews manhandle the heavy war canoes across moving floes and open water in one of the world's most arduous and spectacular sporting events.

When, wet, weary, and well-nigh frozen, the crews reach Levis, their troubles are only half over; they must turn around and re-cross the ice and water to reach the finish line on the north shore at Quebec. It's no sport for the weak or timid, but the hardy Quebec teams seem to thrive on it, and it should make for some exciting viewing this Sunday afternoon.

Program Notes

FEBRUARY 26

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

National School Telecasts

Current Events. (Ages 12-15). Each program deals with a single event, country or personality in the news with the emphasis both on historical background and current significance.

Explorations in Art. (Ages 10 - 13). Purpose of the program is to stimulate interest and present problems that will challenge the mind, imagination and initiative of the viewers.

Today, Modelling—More Adventures in Form. Emphasis is on clay as a basic modelling medium, with discussion on other modelling materials.

Take Thirty

The Origins of Life—Why We Are What We Are. First of two programs on human body chemistry and heredity. Anna Cameron's guests, Dr. Fred Knelman, chemist, of Montreal, and Dr. Nancy Simpson, geneticist at the University of Toronto, describe the human cell, chromosomes and chemistry of genes and how they determine heredity. Illustrated with drawings, photographs and models.

Scarlett Hill

The Queen of Spades. Continuation of the week-long drama in which a young architect loses his wife and two sons in a car accident.

Ladies First

Economist David Young explains one or two basic principles of Canadian economics to help us understand more clearly how the country is financed. Mrs. R. W. Queen-Hughes then discusses the financing of municipal governments, with reference to taxation, budgets and local council control.

Razzle Dazzle

1. Mr. Showbiz and the Turtlesell Players present a new version of the Hound of the Baskervilles with Al Hambone as the butler and Michele as Lady Ponsby Pontifex Ponsby-Pontoon.

2. George Feyer draws the comic strip with Percy Kidpester pestering kids in a barber shop.

3. Playalong, Terrible Ten, Nutty Newsreel, Kooky Commercial and Comment.

CBXT—Gateway

Co-hosts Jim Crossen and Jim Schrumm present the regular Tuesday feature—Law For The Layman, with J. Corbett and Mr. Chapman giving legal advice on the administration of estates.

CBXT—Pete and Gladys

The amazing resemblance between Gladys and an exotic European dancer causes great confusion at a press conference and on stage.

CBXT—Our Man Higgins

Higgins is kept busy preventing his nephew's gambling creditors from visiting Aunt Martha.

CBWT—Junior Hi-Lites

Children appearing on today's show are pianists Joanne Martin and Roslyn Story; accordionists Roman Holowczynsky and Victor Masnyk; violinist Brian Williams; and vocalist Dale Donaldson. Producer, Don Browne-Wilkinson.

Perry Mason

The Case of the Surplus Suitor. Walter Pidgeon, substituting for Raymond Burr, is hired by a scatter-brained heiress when the woman is accused of murder involving blackmail and a mysterious Swiss bank account.

The Lively Arts

Canadian painter York Wilson narrates a film of about 100 of his works that show four periods in his development from figurative to abstract paintings. The film, prepared and researched by Michael Foytenyi, also shows Wilson preparing for a one-man show in Paris where he now lives.

CBWT—On The Scene

1. A film on the Trans-Canada Airlines flight simulator operation.

2. Second segment of the show comes live from the Motor Show at the Winnipeg Arena. Producer, Perry Rosemond.

LIVELY ARTS:

The Artist

Who Ran Away From Success

AFTER COMPLETING the largest mural ever undertaken in Canada by a Canadian artist—the 100-foot-long, 15-foot-high, panoramic story of the arts in the lobby of Toronto's O'Keefe Centre — which brought him several more attractive commissions, York Wilson and his wife closed down their unusual and ultra-modern home in Toronto and took off for Europe. They settled into a studio in Paris which is far from the last word in modernity. The kitchen, which also contains the furnace, is so tiny that it's hard to turn around in it after a heavy meal.

Many were surprised that an artist at the peak of achievement and recognition should leave the scene of his good fortune for foreign parts and far-from-luxurious living. He was not only being acclaimed for the O'Keefe mural and another large one in the Imperial Oil Building in Toronto, considered one of the finest murals on the continent, but for many highly successful one-man shows. Wilson said he wanted the fresh inspiration offered by completely new surroundings—without the distractions of an incessantly-ringing telephone.

It has been a highly productive period for him. The Wilsons have spent two years abroad and expect to stay for another year. Part of the time they have travelled around in a small car stuffed with Walter Pidgeon makes a rare television appearance Tuesday as star of The Case of the Surplus Suitor, on Perry Mason. He takes over for Raymond Burr, recovering from minor surgery at the time the episode was filmed.

Program Notes

FEBRUARY 27

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

CBXT—Ladies First

1. An interview with Helen Bentley and her husband, Dr. C. F. Bentley, about their recent stay in Thailand.

2. Another music appreciation session with J. Kay Greene.

3. Interesting pointers on potato glamour.

Producer, William Burley.

Manitoba Schools

Mathematics. A series of three telecasts planned to supplement the regular classroom work in grades 10, 11 and 12. The programs are presented by Dr. Bernard Noonan and Murray Smith. Today, Graphs.

Take Thirty

The Origins of Life—Why We Are What We Are. The second of two programs on human body chemistry and heredity. Paul Soles' guests are Dr. Fred Knelman, chemist, of Montreal, and Dr. D. F. Denstedt, biochemist at McGill University. They describe the viruses, chemicals and body cells that determine heredity and discuss how close scientists are to being able to control the behaviour of these cells and thereby such diseases as cancer.

Scarlett Hill

The Queen of Spades. Continuation of the story in which a young architect returns home one day to find that his wife and two sons have been killed in a traffic accident. Left with a young daughter to bring up, his troubles are further added to by two interfering neighbours.

CBWT—Ladies First

1. Mrs. James Lawrie demonstrates pottery pieces by famous designers.

FLIN FLON and THE PAS

CHANNEL 10 — CHANNEL 7

CBXT—Reach For The Top

The two teams with the highest number of points in section five play off tonight. Moderator is Colin MacLean. Producer, Don McRae.

Mr. Fix-It

Re-Decorate and Re-Model a Bathroom. Part 4. Handyman Peter Whittall and announcer Rex Loring talk about painting and papering the bathroom.

My Three Sons

Make Way for Yesterday. Robbie is forced to defend his family when Steve and Bub suggest an old-fashioned booth for the school carnival.

Parade

Jazz. Starring singer Jo Williams, tenor saxophonist Stan Getz and band leader Eddie Sauter with trumpeter Guido Basso. The program features two 18-piece orchestras, one jazz and the other strings. Getz, leading exponent of the new Bossa Nova beat, plays O Pato from his album Jazz Samba, and Once Upon A Time, an arrangement by Sauter from the album Focus. Williams' solos include Without a Song and Shake, Rattle and Roll. Host is Bill Walker.

Ben Casey

Rigadoon for Three Pianos. A woman refuses to undergo surgery until she can be sure that the life of her niece, a concert pianist, will not be ruined by her domineering mother.

Explorations

The Disordered Mind. Second of a four-part series examining mental illness. Actual cases are shown at the start of treatment. The progress of the patient is followed through to conclusion when the patient is well on the way to recovery.

The series is produced by Robert Anderson Associates Limited, and each program features comments by a discussant psychiatrist, interviewed by Robert Anderson.

Today, The Obsessive-Compulsive. A middle-aged man, despite good education and intellect, has been unable to hold down a job during the five years prior to the start of treatment. Discussant: Dr. Karl Stern, chief of psychiatry, St. Mary's Hospital, Montreal.

CBXT—Gallant Men

The Warriors. War correspondent Conley Wright finds himself in a difficult situation with a group of soldiers who seem reluctant to fight.

CBWT—Time Out For Music

Featuring popular vocalist Doug Crosley and the Mitch Parks Combo in a half-hour of songs and music. Producer, Neil Andrews.

Investigate Heredity on "Take Thirty"

WHILE MAN PROBES farther into outer space—orbits the earth 17 times and lays plans for placing a man on the moon—he is making just as spectacular, though less publicized, advances in the study of himself and what makes him tick, through research into human heredity. Some of the new, vitally important knowledge he has acquired recently in this field will be discussed on CBC-TV's Take Thirty in two half-hour programs titled The Origins of Life, to be seen on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 26 and 27.

The first program, on why we are what we are, will describe the human cell, chromosomes, and the chemistry of genes, and how they determine inheritance. Hostess Anna Cameron's guests will be Take Thirty's science reporter, Dr. Fred Knelman of Montreal, and Dr. Nancy Simpson, geneticist with the department of pharmacology, University of Toronto.

The basic question to be discussed is this: We are the product

2. In the adventure comic strip, Boomer Foghorn is in the world of hockey.

3. Playalong, Terrible Ten, Nutty Newsreel.

The Scarlet Pimpernel

Sword of Justice. Another Englishman claims to be the Scarlet Pimpernel in an attempt to steal from the French aristocrats.

CBWT—Stop, Look and Listen

Henrietta wins a fudge contest and a free trip to Hawaii. Understandably she has a lot of volunteers who would like to go along to keep her company. One of them nearly makes it.

Hobbies 'N Handicrafts. The question of which camera you should buy is dealt with in Geoff Spurr's photography series. He discusses the main types of cameras, their advantages and disadvantages for beginners. Producer, Don Browne-Wilkinson.

CBXT—Dobie Gillis

Dobie is torn between two loves—ambitious Thalia who wants him to be smart, and a rich, beautiful girl who likes him stupid.

The Defenders

Metamorphosis. The Prestons come to the aid of a convicted murderer who, after serving seven years of a life sentence, seeks a pardon.

Playdate Presents Jo Stafford Show

Jo Stafford salutes the "swing era" on tonight's show, recalling the big band days of the 30's and 40's. Special guest star is singer Peggy Lee.

Also appearing is British song and dance man Roy Castle, and Lionel Blair, a regular on the show, is joined for this occasion by his sister and former partner, Joyce Blair.

Jo and Peggy reminisce in song about their days with the Tommy Dorsey and Benny Goodman bands.

The Good Old Days Of the Big Dancebands

Jo Stafford and Peggy Lee, big names in showbusiness who started with the big bands of another era, come together Thursday on "Playdate Presents the Jo Stafford Show."

ABOUT A GENERATION ago, the popular-music scene in North America was dominated by big dance bands. Ruling over the kingdom of swing were such princes as Glenn Miller, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, Harry James, Benny Goodman, Artie Shaw, and an assortment of other nobles, including Duke Ellington, Count Basie, and Earl Hines.

When not ensconced in their castles in New York—Roseland or the Palace Theatre—the rulers were wont to travel the length and breadth of the kingdom they shared, visiting their subjects in large and small cities and towns, stopping at a different place each night.

They took with them large entourages of musicians and singing ladies—in-waiting, some of whom became famous in their own right. Among the latter were Anita O'Day, Helen Forrest, Peggy Lee, Martha Tilton, Connie Boswell, Margaret Whiting, Jo Stafford, Helen O'Connell, and Ginnie Simms.

This week, on Playdate Presents the Jo Stafford Show (Thursday, February 28), two of the most successful band vocalists of that era—Jo Stafford and Peggy Lee—both of whom are still top names in showbusiness, reminisce about the good old days of the late 1930s and early '40's, in a program designed to evoke nostalgia for that bygone period in the popular-music business.

The era of the big bands seems, in retrospect, more glamorous than the showbusiness world of today, when one can see and hear top entertainers without even leaving one's home, merely by switching on a television set. Of course, a few of the big bands are still around, but, to quote a Duke Ellington song title: "Things ain't what they used to be." The golden age is past, victim of rapidly changing social patterns that have decimated the large ballroom audiences of former years.

But, while the fans may have seen the life of a dance-band musician or singer as all glitter and gaiety, the performers themselves saw it in a different light. To them, especially when touring on

Program Notes

MARCH 1

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Western Schools

Window on the Universe. Today, on the threshold of the space age we study the stars with more interest than ever before. An understanding of the problems of, and plans for, the exploration of space is based on a knowledge of our solar system and our "neighbours in space."

Today, Reach for the Sun. A young boy makes his third visit to the Queen Elizabeth Planetarium in Edmonton and talks with Ian MacLennan, director of the Planetarium. This time he learns more about our own star, the Sun. They take an imaginary journey passing Venus and circling Mercury. Out of the journey comes concepts of the nature of the sun and its importance to us. MacLennan also shows a film of an eclipse, explains how it was taken and what it means.

Take Thirty

Anna Cameron and Paul Soles talk about their recent trip to New York where they interviewed people in all walks of life and prepared features on New York life for future showing on Take Thirty.

Scarlett Hill

The Amherst Case. Beginning a new week-long serialized drama. A shy and retiring young girl inherits the entire fortune of her domineering mother. When word comes later that she has been drowned in Europe, a mysterious cousin turns up to claim the fortune.

Starring Sharon Acker and Fletcher Markle, with Phyllis Malcolm Stewart, Graydon Gould, Dinah Christie and Pamela Foster.

Razzle Dazzle

1. Mr. Sharpy shows Michele a new kind of pill that is supposed to turn water into gasoline.

2. The Razzle Dazzle of the week is shown and Ace Baker directs his Field Day Games.

3. Telequiz, Nutty Newsreel, Terrible Ten, Kooky Commercial, Comment.

Friday Islanders

The Hamsters. Stephen Grainger, going through a phase typical of a 12-year-old, borrows tools from his father's tool box to build a hutch for his hamsters, and gets into trouble when he leaves them out in a rain-storm.

CBXT—Keynotes

Pianist Tommy Banks and organist Harry Boone are joined by vocalists Judith Moore and Vik Armen.

Country Hoedown

Guest is Mary Lou Fletcher, 22-year-old singer from London.

Tommy Ambrose

Special guests are singer, dancer and actress Sandy Stewart and comedian Jackie Kannon.

CBWT—Biography

John L. Lewis. Story of this U.S. labour leader who started work in coal mines and union organization simultaneously, and in 1920 was elected president of the United Mine Workers' Union. After the 1940 presidential election, he kept his promise to resign, if Roosevelt, whom he supported in 1932 and 1936 but thereafter opposed, was returned. But he later returned to office.

Lewis was widely criticized for calling miners' strikes in wartime and during postwar reconversion, but retained the miners' support. Under his leadership their wages tripled in 25 years and working conditions were greatly improved.

Canoe Race Unique Feature

by

KEN REEVES

CBC Regina

Sportscaster

IN ADDITION to the usual fine sports attractions on CBC television this weekend a pair of unusual shows will be telecast, one concerning big game hunting in Northern B.C. (World of Sport, Saturday), the other covering part of the annual Quebec Winter Carnival.

The big game hunting film was taken in the Findlay Creek area of British Columbia and covers a three-week period with many candid shots of big game animals including some shots of a moose being bagged.

On Sunday, February 24, CBC cameras take you to the Quebec Winter Carnival for the unique canoe race across the St. Lawrence River. This race takes place over open water and across ice floes and is possibly the only race of its kind in the world. Five-man crews man the paddles and carry the big 300-pound canoes in what should prove to be a very interesting race.

Cross Canada Curling, one of the most popular features on CBC Saturday afternoon, continues with the showing of the Ernie Richardson-Ron Redding match. Richardson, of course, (Please turn to page 33) on pardon for the lovers whom he seeks to unite. He knows now that they were blameless and gently reproaches Isolde for not having confided in him. But her soul already has begun its flight. She rises slowly and standing beside the cold form of her lover begins the Liebestod, her whole being transfigured as she lingers on the threshold of that other realm into which she must now follow Tristan. In trance-like exaltation she expires in Brangane's arms as the noble King Marke calls down a benediction on the dead.

Tristan und Isolde. Music drama in three acts by Wagner.

Dramatis Personae: King Marke—bass; Isolde—soprano; Tristan—tenor; Kurwenal—baritone; Melot—baritone; Brangane—mezzo-soprano; a steersman—tenor; a shepherd—tenor.

With Hans Hopf and Birgit Nilsson in the title roles, Jerome Hines as King Marke, Walter Cassel as Kurwenal and Irene Dalis as Brangane. Conducted by Georg Solti.

Act I. On board a ship. Isolde is bitter as the ship carries her to Cornwall where she is to become the unwilling bride of old King Marke. Tristan is at the helm of the ship and refuses to come to see Isolde. Isolde tells Brangane of the past: how Tristan had been brought to her, wounded and ill, and she had tended him; how she had discovered that it was he who had killed her betrothed, Morold; how, when she was tempted to slay him with his own sword, he had looked with love into her eyes; and now, a traitor to his vows, he ignores her and bears her a captive to his old kinsman for a marriage she abhors.

As they near land, Tristan enters and Isolde invites him to drink from a flask filled with a deadly potion. Brangane seizes an opportunity to substitute a potion of love for that of death. As Tristan drinks from the cup tendered him, Isolde snatches it and drains the dregs. An ecstasy steals over them as they gaze at each other, expecting death. At last they fall into a rapturous embrace as King Marke's welcoming retainers come on board.

Act II. In Cornwall, at the castle of King Marke. Garden before Isolde's dwelling. She is intent upon a meeting with Tristan and Brangane warns of Melot, whom she says has played the spy. Brangane goes to the tower to keep watch. Tristan enters, Isolde throws herself into his arms and they abandon themselves to the rapture of the moment.

As dawn approaches Brangane utters a cry of alarm and Kurwenal, Tristan's servant, rushes in in an effort to protect his master. Close behind him are Melot, King Marke and others. The king stands stupefied as Melot boasts of the service he has done him. Marke is overcome with sorrow for he has always loved and trusted Tristan who was to be his sole heir.

Tristan resolves to set out for the dreary land where he was born, and Isolde says she will follow. Melot draws his sword and badly wounds Tristan.

Act III. In Brittany, at Tristan's castle. Tristan, attended by Kurwenal, lies unconscious on a bed under a lime tree. A message has been sent to Isolde in Cornwall but a shepherd, placed as a lookout on a cliff, reports there is no ship in sight. Tristan calls distractedly for Isolde. In his fever, his life passes before his eyes; he sees his unhappy youth, his unlucky voyage to Ireland, and curses the fateful potion.

Suddenly the shepherd signals the approach of a ship. Kurwenal rushes down to meet Isolde at the shore. Tristan staggers to his feet but collapses as Isolde enters, having only the strength to call her name. As Kurwenal stands on the ruined battlements, mute with grief, the shepherd calls out that a second ship has arrived. Kurwenal believes that Marke has come to attack them and calling upon a few old servitors to resist, rushes upon Melot and kills him. He is mortally wounded in the fight and crawls toward the feet of Tristan to die.

King Marke comes upon the scene, intent not on battle or punishment but

A first radio performance of a Hans Christian Andersen fairy-tale by Serge Prokofieff whose orchestral arrangement of the story of PETER AND THE WOLF won him world fame, by soprano Nona Mari and concert pianist Ada Bronstein.

Originally written for voice and piano in 1914 and revised in 1932 by the composer, the musical setting for THE UGLY DUCKLING was once described by the dean of Russian letters, Maxim Gorki, as a work that “expresses truly human qualities of compassion” in the portrayal of the slow metamorphosis of a humble feathered member of the barnyard community to a beautiful swan. The English translation is from the original Russian by Robert Burness. Producer, Benjamin Horch.

The Ugly Duckling, op. 18 Serge Prokofieff

Program Notes

8:35 a.m.—Postmark U.K.
(8:30 a.m. on CBX)

Llandudno. Situated on the beautiful beaches of North Wales, the town of Llandudno provides sea, sunshine and scenery—a wonderful setting for a summer holiday. The mountains surrounding the town, the Welsh charm of the town itself and the popularity of the sport of Tope angling makes Llandudno a unique place to visit and enjoy.

9:03 a.m.—Sunday School of the Air

Continuing the series Stories from the Bible with the Rev. W. H. McMahon of Broadway First Baptist Church moderating a panel made up of children from the Baptist, United, Presbyterian and Lutheran churches. Today's theme is The Resurrection of the Body.

The St. James Presbyterian Junior Choir is directed by Mrs. R. Earl. Story teller is Norm Micklewright. Producer, W. H. Randall.

1:00 p.m.—I.Q.

From Quebec. Hudson High School of Hudson Heights and Lindsay Place High School of Pointe Claire compete. The half-time guest is King Gordon, who appraises the work of the U.N. in the Congo.

1:30 p.m.—Carl Tapscott Singers

Recorded at Macdonald College, McGill University, near Montreal in honour of the college's founder, Sir William Macdonald. Guest is singer Joyce Sullivan, and piano soloist and accompanist is Lloyd Edwards. Sea songs, spirituals, hymns and folk airs are among the selections.

2:03 p.m.—Capital Report

E. W. Kenworthy of the New York Times reports from Washington; and Val Sears of the Toronto Star from Ottawa.

5:00 p.m.—Project '63

The first of two programs about international diplomacy — its techniques, modes and manners. Broadcaster Colin Edwards travelled through Europe and North America to bring back interviews with veteran diplomats, heard on the two programs.

The Diplomats — "Old Traditions." The first of two programs prepared by Colin Edwards on the techniques, art and manners of international diplomacy. Edwards travelled through Europe interviewing many diplomats, among them Sir Harry Nicholson of the British Foreign Office, author of an authoritative book on diplomacy; Heinrich von Hervarth, state secretary to the President of the German Federal Republic in Bonn; Andrew Cordier, former deputy secretary-general of the U.N.; Dr. Nathan Barnes of Libya and many others.

Both programs deal with diplomacy as a thing in itself as opposed to international politics and foreign policies.

7:10 p.m.—Weekend Review

A review of the week's news events by Calgary lawyer Ernest Watkins.

8:00 p.m.—CBC Stage

The Keep, by Gwyn Thomas, adapted by Ivor Barry.

9:00 p.m.—Music Styled By . . .
Samuel Hersenhoren of Toronto.

10:30 p.m.—Famous Canadian Trials

La Corriveau, by Mac Shoub. The trial of 30-year-old Marie-Josephte Corriveau for the murder in 1763, of her second husband, Louis Dodier. This was the first murder trial in Canada after the British conquest of Quebec. One especially interesting aspect of this trial is the particular punishment meted out to Marie-Josephte.

painting gear. Last fall they spent several weeks in Turkey and Greece, on the Greek island of Hydra, and in Italy. Wilson usually works at his easel for six hours a day.

On CBC-TV's The Lively Arts on Tuesday night, February 26, Wilson will be seen narrating a film showing about 100 of his works which illustrate the four periods in his development from figurative to abstract painting. He will also be seen getting ready for a one-man show in Paris. The film was prepared and researched by Michael Foytenyi, who also produced and directed the filmed visit to the Le Corbusier-designed Dominican monastery of Sainte Marie de la Tourette near Lyons, France, which was seen in The Lively Arts series a few weeks ago.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

one-night stands, life was a succession of huge dance halls, each one looking exactly like every other. Night after night, the pattern would be repeated—perform until the small hours, then pack into a bus and try to sleep while rolling on to the next destination hundreds of miles distant.

Despite the hardships, Peggy Lee and Jo Stafford look back on those days with fondness — “frantic days, but wonderful days,” they call them — and they are grateful they had the chance to learn, the exacting but exciting way, the skills that made them the stars they are today. Peggy was with the Goodman band, while Jo made her name with Tommy Dorsey's orchestra.

Peggy Lee first started singing with the local church choir in her native Jamestown, North Dakota, and later worked as a vocalist with semi-professional college dance bands in the area. Later she launched herself on a radio career in her home town, gradually obtaining more important singing engagements until she established herself in West Coast nightclub, radio, and recording circles. She sang with Goodman for two years, then struck out as a solo singer and in latter years has shown talent as an actress and song-writer as well as a vocalist. She won an Oscar nomination for her supporting role in the 1956 picture, Pete Kelly's Blues, and has written songs for such films as The Lady and the Tramp, Johnny Guitar, Tom Thumb, and About Mrs. Leslie. Her most successful song to date is It's a Good Day, which she'll sing on the Jo Stafford Show.

Jo Stafford started her career as one-third of a female trio billed as The Stafford Sisters, and later joined another vocal group called the Pied Pipers. This led to her first meeting with pianist-conductor Paul Weston, who later became her husband, and to her joining the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra. She stayed with the Dorsey band for three years, then branched out as a solo recording, radio, and stage star.

of our tens of thousands of genes, but how do they make us what we are? What part of our nature do they control and determine — hair colour, body physique, blood types, intelligence? How much can we predict in human nature? What causes the exceptions to the usual rules of inheritance?

On the first program, viewers will hear about the latest discoveries in the science of genetics, one of the most important of which is the components of the human cell: nucleic acids and proteins. Through the use of powerful microscopes developed in recent years, scientists can now study these highly magnified components of the human cell. Figuring prominently in genetic study is something known as DNA. It isn't just another set of initials, it's the secret of heredity itself, and the present generation will soon be as familiar with it as they are with the meaning of DDT, scientists predict. DNA stands for deoxyribonucleic acid. What it is and does is a fascinating story which will be told in The Origins of Life. In both programs viewers will be shown what scientists see through a microscope in studying genetics, and will learn, through drawings, photographs and models, why the discovery of DNA is at least as important as putting a man on the moon.

The series is about literary criticism and rests on Professor Woodcock's argument that "criticism is in no sense a lesser form of literature, that, in fact, it influences and helps to mould other forms of literature and by shaping and also by interpretation performs its own creative function."

In the second program, host Paul Soles' guests will be Dr. Knelman and Dr. D. F. Denstedt of the department of biochemistry at McGill University. Basic questions to be answered include: What are the viruses, chemicals, and body cells which determine heredity? How close are we to being able to control the behaviour of these cells, and thereby such diseases as cancer?

Sixteen-year-old accordionist Mike Moskul, winner of CBWT's Junior Hi-Lites 1961 grand award, is one of the young variety performers heard at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, on New Talent Parade, coming from Winnipeg this week.

for education to meet the challenge of change and how realistic is the new approach? Can the educators convince the public that a new concept of learning is essential and needs their understanding and support? These questions are answered in a series of three panel discussions broadcast January 29, February 26 and March 26 on CBK. The series has been arranged by the Saskatchewan Federation of Home and School in co-operation with the Provincial Department of Education. Chairman is Judge R. L. Brownridge of Regina.

Today, Part 2: Vocational and Technical Training for Tomorrow's World of Work. Taking part are: C. R. ## Program Notes

9:45 a.m.—Music Diary

(9:30 a.m. on CBX)

Kirsten Flagstad — An Obituary Tribute. Desmond Shawe - Taylor, music scholar and critic for "The Gramophone," pays tribute to the memory of the celebrated Norwegian soprano. Also, words of remembrance from Dame Maggie Teyte.

2:03 p.m.—Trans-Canada Matinee

(2:33 p.m. on CBX)

Careering Ahead. Beginning a new series on careers for women, continuing each Wednesday for several weeks. Aim of the series is to explore the opportunities in the employment field for girls and women from 16 to 60 up. Some provocative views can be expected, and some heartening examples of women who have achieved the seemingly impossible. Hostess is Pat Patterson.

3:00 p.m.—School Broadcasts

(2:00 p.m. on CBX)

Manitoba

Tuneful Tales. (Grades 3 and 4). Children are given an opportunity to sing a few familiar songs and to learn some new ones. Famous composers are introduced by means of stories, dramatizations and recordings. Today, Wooden Shoes.

Saskatchewan

Our World in Poetry. (Grades 7-8). A series of five 15-minute talks to supplement the work the classroom teacher is doing with "Beckoning Trails" and "Life and Literature," Book II. The talks deal with the poet and his relationship to the world around us. Today, The Sea.

Planning Your Career. (Grades 8-12). A series of five broadcasts pointing to the needs, the nature of the work, personal and training requirements, opportunities for advancement, remuneration, advantages and disadvantages, and how to get started toward each occupation. Today, Social Worker.

Alberta

All Join In. (Grades 3 and 4). Emphasizing the importance of instilling a love of music in children. Today, Lukey's Boat.

3:30 p.m.—Theatre of the Air

Jeeves Makes an Omelette, by P. G. Wodehouse, adapted by Roy Brinson.

6:30 p.m.—Prairie Talk

Fort McMurray. A portrait of this interesting northern community which stands at the edge of the great Athabasca tar-sands deposits. Speaker is Alex Mair of Edmonton. Producer, Lorne Wallace.

6:45 p.m.—Pocketful Of Dreams

Georges LaFleche and Jim Pirie play their guitars and sing in an informal quarter-hour of popular music. Producer, Jack Bingham.

By the River Sainte Marie	Georges
Nagasaki	Duet
Summertime	Jim

7:30 p.m.—Assignment

Jim McLean describes his tour of whiskey factories in Scotland.

7:55 p.m.—Diamond D Curling

A report on the Canadian Ladies' Curling Championships being held in St. John, N.B. One rink from each province is represented. Five-minute commentaries are given by Keith Barry.

8:30 p.m.—The Lark

An adaptation by Joseph Scholl of The Lark by Jean Anouilh. Joan of Arc, "a lark in the skies of France" faces inquisitors at her trial for heresy and re-lives the events leading to her victory, defeat and martyrdom.

• HELP WANTED — FEMALE

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES for women of all ages — are they on the increase? A new series on CBC Radio's Trans-Canada Matinee examines the situation, commencing February 27.

PROSPECTS FOR employment for girls and women aged 16 to 60 and up will be explored in Careering Ahead, a radio series beginning on Trans-Canada Matinee Wednesday afternoon, February 27. It will be heard each Wednesday for two months.

Some of the questions to be looked into on the programs are: How can the older woman set about returning to work? How can the young married woman keep her skills up-to-date so she can return to work if and when she wants to, or if it becomes economically necessary?

Do women really want to return to work if it isn't economically necessary? Why are employers wary about employing older women? Are pension funds just an excuse for barring women from jobs?

What are the opportunities for part-time work for women? What are the opportunities for re-training? How can school-leavers be guided into the kinds of work with long-term prospects, into jobs where demand exceeds supply and not the other way around?

What is being done to help young girls make the right choice of employment? How can vocational training be up-graded so that it's not looked on as second-class education compared with university training?

Programs in the series will be divided broadly into age groups, starting with the 60-year-olds and up, and working down to teenagers just out of school. Some provocative views will be offered on the questions listed above, and there will be some heartening examples of women who have achieved success against all sorts of odds. The series will be heard in the first half-hour of Matinee.

Featured on the first program is Mrs. Laura Jamieson of Vancouver, a former juvenile court judge, and member of the B.C. Legislature for seven years. Mrs. Jamieson has contributed many reminiscences to Trans-Canada Matinee. The program also includes reports on the work of the Age and Opportunity Bureau in Winnipeg.

On another program valuable advice for women over 40 can be expected from Mrs. Frances Baird, assistant director of McGill's Industrial Relations Centre, and from representatives of two Montreal firms in which a woman's age is no bar to her employment.

Members of the Scarborough YWCA will offer strong and differing views on employment for the married woman in her 30s. Does she prefer to return to work when her youngest child enters school? Has she kept up her skills? Would she prefer voluntary work or part-time employment? Or would she rather stay at home and keep house? Answers to these and other questions involving the 30-to-40 age group will be offered.

HELP WANTED

Anne Francis of Ottawa will find out about opportunities for women in part-time employment when she talks to a restaurant proprietor, a union organizer, a waitress, a hospital chief-of-personnel, an employee in a hospital kitchen, and to Margaret Labarge, mother of four children, part-time teacher of history at Carleton University, and author of the biography Simon de Montfort.

What courses are available for unemployed women? Speakers in Halifax and St. John will answer this question, with additional information from other provinces.

The final program will include an interview with Marion Royce, director of the Women's Bureau, Department of Labour, Ottawa.

SPORTS—KEN REEVES

is the defending world and Canadian champion, who is off to a successful start towards winning his fourth Brier and world title, while Redding is the defending Northern Ontario champion.

For viewers in the Winnipeg area CBWT will carry the Western Intercollegiate basketball game between the University of Manitoba Bisons and the University of Alberta (Calgary Branch) Dinosaurs.

The regular NHL telecast this weekend originates from Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto, where the Maple Leafs, battling it out with Chicago and Montreal in the race for top spot, play host to the last-place Boston Bruins. The Leafs should be pulling out all the stops for this one because first place in the NHL is by no means out of their reach. Copping first spot, in addition to the extra money, means the advantage in home games, particularly when any given series goes the full seven games—it's always a comfort to know that the seventh game is going to be played before the much friendlier hometown fans.

As far as the Bruins are concerned, they'll just be playing out the string but there's always next year's contracts. The Bruins have a young club and they have plenty of youngsters waiting in the wings for a crack at the big time, so none can afford to let up.

Boston, many of you will recall, haven't found the Leafs as tough as some of the other clubs this season—in fact, early in the '62-'63 campaign, the Bruins dumped the Leafs by a whopping count of something like 9-2 and so can't be taken lightly.

'Doctor Casey' is Health-Watcher

VINCENT EDWARDS is, by his own admission, several kinds of a nut—on sports and food, that is.

"I'm a health nut," says the muscular, 31-year-old actor who plays the role of Dr. Ben Casey every Wednesday night on CBC-TV. "I've always wanted to stay healthy."

He works out in a gym at least twice a week to keep his 6-foot-2-inch, 200-pound frame in top shape, and watches his diet carefully, often eating special health-foods.

"I'm also a nut on aviation," he continues. "I used to fly my own plane, but I've backed away from that now because I have a lot of responsibility on the show."

Edwards, however, hasn't let this sense of responsibility dull his zest for living. "I like excitement," he says, "any kind of excitement—fights, baseball, flying, horse racing, water skiing—just anything exciting."

This aspect of his nature seems to be in curious contrast to the role he plays in his TV series—a quiet, dedicated, serious-minded neurosurgeon in a large hospital.

But there is a less exuberant side to Edward's character. In quieter moments, he reads a great deal and has also tried his hand at writing. One of his works, an unpublished fantasy, deals with fate and how man can change his destiny through determination.

Edwards, the youngest of a family of seven, was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., in 1931. He attended Ohio State University for a time, but at age 19 he quit college to study acting at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York.

"Everybody was trying to be like Marlon Brando then," recalls Nick Dennis, an old friend who plays an orderly in the Casey series. "Vince went around in a dirty T shirt all the time. It was a fad."

Among Edwards' classmates at the Academy were actresses Grace

Kelly and Anne Bancroft, and John Cassavetes, now a prominent film director and producer.

Through the Academy, he obtained a small part in High Button Shoes, on Broadway, and a tour with a road company in Come Back, Little Sheba.

Then he moved into television, first in New York, where he played in about 50 drama programs, and later in Hollywood, where he appeared in The Untouchables, General Electric Theatre and an Alfred Hitchcock thriller.

His moving portrayal of a frontier doctor in an episode of The Deputy, a western TV series, led directly to his being chosen for the title role in Ben Casey.

Edwards has appeared in a half-dozen motion pictures, including City of Fear and The Three Faces of Eve. He has also made a recording, singing a novelty song called Lollipop.

Despite his sudden rise to fame in the highly successful Casey series, Edwards apparently still has his feet on the ground. He lives with his aunt in a modest home in Hollywood. He is unmarried.

In terms of his acting career, how does Vince Edwards feel about Ben Casey?

"It's one more step," he says. "But, of course, it's the biggest one yet."
